WAR IN IRELAND IS EXPECTED ASQUITH IN PERSONAL CHARGE DANGER REACHES ACUTE STAGE

Sunday's Clash Brings Out High Feeling Against Soldiers of King George—Riots Continue All Night

TROOPS CHALLENGED TO FIGHT

Repeated Rushes Are Made Against Barracks—Critical Developments Within Last 48 Hours Bring English Government Face to Face With Most Serious Situation.

LONDON, July 27.—Fearing that actual war in Ireland will result from Sunday's clash between the king's own borderers and a home rule crowd in Dublin, Premier Asquith was in personal charge of the war office today.

After their volley into the crowd had killed four and wounded about 80, the borderers narrowly escaped with their own lives, according to detailed accounts of the affair received by the government. Dispatches indicated the danger wasn't over.

Though the troops cleared the streets for a moment, they were quickly besieged in their barracks by a huge throng which howled for their blood. The soldiers were challenged repeatedly to come out and fight. Repeated rushes were made against the barracks. The attacks continued through most of the night.

FINE ASSESSED AGAINST MAN FOR TRYING TO "KID" SPECIAL OFFICER ON DUTY

H. H. WESSEL CHARGED WITH INTERFERING AND IS ARRESTED.

It sometimes cost something to "kid" an officer of the law even if said officer is "special" instead of "regular" and H. H. Wessel, well known retired merchant, will hesitate before he again challenges the authority of John Heathman, sometimes known as "Missouri John." The latter is from the "show me" state and he "showed" Wessel in a way that touched his pocket book.

Heathman, who is street commissioner and who wears a special police star, was sitting in the office of Chief of Police Kearney Saturday afternoon when a telephone call came in to the effect that a couple of colored men were "killing" each other at the Humphrey barber shop. The chief went around one way and sent Heathman the other to the scene of trouble. In pursuing W. H. Labelle, one of the dusky belligerents, through the Welch cigar store, Heathman encountered Wessel who irritated the officer by questioning his authority and making remarks of a disconcerting character. One of these remarks, according to testimony adduced at the trial, was to the effect that Heathman ought to be hung.

The net result was that Heathman proved his authority by flashing his star and placing the ex-merchant under arrest on a charge of interfering with an officer. He was escorted to the police station where Acting Judge John Halley listened to the tale of the two. Wessel insisted that he was only "kidding" but the court was not impressed with that excuse and assessed him ten dollars.

Labelle and Charles Patton, the two colored men who had become involved in an altercation over money settlement, were booked for appearance this morning. Labelle forfeited bail and the case against Patton was dismissed.

You can't flatter an honest man by telling him that he's honest.

BIDS WILL BE CALLED FOR IN A FEW MONTHS

Contract for Pendleton Federal Building is Expected to be Rushed Through.

Within seven or eight months the United States government will be advertising for bids for the contract of constructing the Pendleton federal building, according to a letter received this morning by the Commercial association from Congressman N. J. Sinnott. The representative writes that he had recently called upon the supervising architect to urge expedition and that he had received assurances that the sketches would be made within the next 30 days and that everything would be in readiness for advertising within seven or eight months.

A letter from Senator Harry Lane is not quite so encouraging, his statement being that the fact that the architect is three years behind in his work makes it difficult to hurry the Pendleton building. Both Sinnott and Lane as well as Senator Chamberlain express appreciation of the thanks voted them by the association.

All three likewise acknowledge re-

FRENCH RESERVES CALLED TO COLORS FOR INSTANT MOVE

Orders Issued for Men to Hold Themselves in Readiness to Mobilize on Short Notice.

WHOLE COUNTRY IN WAR FEVER

Russia is Said to Have Promised Support to Servia Against Austria—Former's Army is Mobilizing—Belgrade is Deserted—Russian Reservists Have Been Called.

PARIS, July 27.—The French army reservists have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to mobilize at short notice.

The French war fleet has concentrated at Toulon.

Word has been received from President Poincare, who has been visiting at St. Petersburg and Stockholm that he will return immediately. The French are in a fever of war enthusiasm.

BEIGRADE, July 27.—Russia is reported to have promised support to Servia against Austria. The Servian army is mobilizing. It is announced here that the Crown Prince, who commanded Servia's troops in the war with Turkey, will again be in command.

The Austrians are massing at Semlin. Belgrade is almost deserted, only a small body of troops remaining.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 27.—That the Russian reservists have been called to the colors is reported. It is believed the war office will act immediately if Austria moves against Servia. A strict censorship prevailed over all official movements.

MODANE, France, July 27.—With the war spirit rampant in France, Russia, Austria, Germany and Servia, Italy is showing but little enthusiasm for the threatened European conflict. Should the Italian government order an army mobilization to aid its Teutonic allies, there are many indications it will precipitate a revolt which might mean the monarchy's overthrow. Italy's alliance with Germany and Austria never was popular with the Italians.

BERLIN, July 27.—Heavy runs started on savings banks at Berlin, Danzig, Zaar-Bruecken and elsewhere. The Bourses at Brussels, Budapest and Vienna have suspended as a result of the threatened conflict.

MME CAILLAUX IS NEAR BREAK-DOWN

PARIS, July 27.—Mme. Caillaux is on the verge of a collapse. Stimulants were administered today before she could enter the courtroom. Reports are current the jurors received anonymous threats of death if they returned a verdict of guilty. Dr. Eugene Doyen, testified today that proper treatment would have saved Calmette's life.

A duel between Caillaux and Henry Bernstein, author and playwright, is expected as an outcome of the trial. Bernstein testified last week for the prosecution.

Caillaux was on the stand today to amplify his previous testimony. He referred to Bernstein as a deserter from the army. The author leaped to his feet with an angry retort. Caillaux ignored him at the time, but a challenge is considered certain.

WHOLE DETAILS OF THE BOALT STORY COMING

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Secretary Daniels announced today he will send to the senate tomorrow and give out for publication a full report of the board of inquiry's investigation into the story told by Boalt to the effect Ensign Richardson told him United States troops practiced the "law of flight" at the time American forces occupied Vera Cruz.

AUSTRIAN TROOPS ARE FIRED ON BY SERVANS IN DANUBE; ENGAGEMENT FOLLOWS BUT NO DETAILS OF OUTCOME KNOWN

Russia is Ready for Move Against Enemy to Support Servia—England's Position Will be Critical if Another Nation Takes a Hand Declares Foreign Minister Grey.

BERLIN, July 27.—A conference on which may depend war or peace for all Europe is in progress at Potsdam. Messages from every European capital indicate the belief the Kaiser alone, if anyone, can avert the bloodiest struggle in the world's history.

The war spirit is rampant in Berlin. The Kaiser is attending the conference.

His majesty arrived by special train traveling at a terrific speed from Kiel, where he landed following the abrupt termination of his cruise in Norwegian waters. At the station he was met by the Crown Prince and three members of his cabinet. A throng of subjects also gathered to greet him. As he appeared the crowd burst into "Die Wacht Am Rhine."

The Kaiser drove to the palace through packed streets, receiving a tremendous ovation. There were the wildest "Hoche's" for the Kaiser and the Crown Prince, Austria and the Fatherland.

The Russian and Servian embassies are guarded by strong forces of police.

General Von Moltke, chief of the army staff, who was visiting in Carlsbad, has returned in hot haste. It is reported that army mobilization orders will be issued today.

LONDON, July 27.—The British government is making frantic diplomatic efforts to avert a general European war. King George has cancelled all his engagements and remained today at Buckingham palace to be in constant touch with the situation.

Foreign Minister Grey already has suggested to France, Germany and Italy a plan of mediating in Austria and Servia's differences. He was in constant communication with British Ambassadors at Berlin and Rome. These diplomats were said to be of the opinion that no steps yet have been taken which would render arbitration impossible.

Though it was said Sunday that Austria actually had declared war, this was denied in official circles. There had not been any official declaration, it was said.

VIENNA, July 27.—Servian soldiers have dynamited the bridge across the Save river between Semlin, Hungary and the Servian side of the river.

Reports that Servians fired on a boatload of Austrian troops in the Danube on Sunday are confirmed. The Austrians answered the fire and a hot engagement resulted. The outcome is not known.

Still Growing.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The "biggest man in public life"—physically—received congratulations today upon his forty-third birthday anniversary. Senator Ollie James of Kentucky. He stands 6 feet 6, weighs over 300 and is one of the democratic leaders and most popular men in congress.

If a friend pulls his watch on your funny story cut it short.

Montenegrins Mobilize.

GETTINJE, July 27.—The Montenegrin army is mobilizing to help Servia against Austria.

United States Won't Meddle.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—The United States doesn't intend to meddle in European politics. This was made plain by President Wilson in an audience with newspaper correspondents.

REJOICING OVER NEW WATER SUPPLY BUSINESS MEN PLAN TO GIVE CREDIT TO MEN WHO MADE PROJECT AGO

With the Thorn Hollow water system now in use by the city there is local rejoicing over the realization of that long cherished dream and there is a demand that something be done to celebrate the event and at the same time fittingly honor the men responsible for giving good water to Pendleton. Leon Cohen and John F. Robinson are two of those most enthusiastic over the idea and it is probable some action of this sort will be taken. It is especially desired to honor the water commissioners who stood by the project when it was under opposition and attack.

"The gravity system is the greatest thing that ever happened for Pendleton," says Mr. Cohen. "Never before in my recollection has this town had a sufficient supply of water. There will now be good water for all purposes. There will be plenty for irrigation, for flushing the streets and for every other need. It is impossible to overestimate what that means to the town."

"We should now let it be known far and wide that we have good water and plenty of it. There should be a sign on every road leading to Pendleton that this place has mountain water and an abundance of it. We should have a big sign on the hill by the reservoirs stating something about the water system and the capacity of the reservoirs."

In the view of Mr. Cohen the new water system will do much for the town and will bring new people here to live if we just let the outside world know the facts. As an instance of how the reputation for bad water will scare people he recalls that when in Salem and Eugene but a few days ago he remembered the former stories of typhoid in those places arising from the use of poor water. He re-

THE THREE AMERICAN DUCHESSES AND MISS HAVEMEYER, SOON TO BE ONE

Duchess of Marlborough Duchess of Roxburghe Miss Elythe Havemeyer

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elythe Havemeyer, daughter of the late Henry Havemeyer, to the Earl of Grafton, has aroused great interest in international matches. Since the Duke of Grafton is very old there is every likelihood that her husband will succeed to the dukedom in a short time. Then there will be four American duchesses.

The Duchess of Marlborough was Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York, the Duchess of Manchester was Miss Zimmerman of Cincinnati, and the Duchess of Roxburghe was Miss Goelet of New York. All of them were enormously wealthy or had enormously wealthy papas.

Of these marriages 66 per cent have been happy—so far as is known. But the Duchess of Marlborough and the duke don't get along. Just now the duchess is in the United States making suffrage speeches.

CARRANZA RECEIVES ADMIRAL MAYO AND AMERICAN OFFICERS

WASHINGTON, July 27.—That Carranza has officially received Admiral Mayo and other American naval officers was the announcement contained in dispatches received at the state department. The same advice forecasted the opening of negotiations between Carranza and President Carbajal, at Saltillo sometime this week.
